Warrant to be issued for former hospital CFO on theft charges

A warrant was expected to be issued Monday for the arrest of a former chief financial officer at Hoopeston Community Memorial Hospital and Nursing Home.

Tom J. Hilgendorf, 40, was indicted Friday by a Vermilion County grand jury on a charge of theft over $10,000, said Gary Miller, chief investigator for the Vermilion County Sheriff's Department.

Hilgendorf served as the facility's financial officer from 1990 to 1995, Miller said. A former Danville resident, Hilgendorf now lives in Houghton, Mich., and works as a financial officer for another facility, Miller said.

Hospital board members learned of the missing funds through an audit by the accounting firm of Checkers, Simon and Rosner of Chicago, said board president Russell Leigh, also an accountant.

Approximately two months ago, board members went to the Vermilion County state's attorney's office with information on the discrepancy, Miller said.

The case was then referred to the sheriff's department.

Miller did not specify the total missing from the hospital. "We couldn't be specific about that," he said. "It's more than $10,000 and under $100,000."

Theft continued from other side

Board members intend to pursue getting the facility's money back, said Leigh. "We'll pursue whatever measures we can to get the funds back," he said.

Finding the missing funds proved difficult in audits because amounts taken at one time were small, said Leigh. "At the end of the fiscal year, which ends

Sept. 30, (auditors) came across something that triggered it," he said.

Procedures which allowed money to be taken from the facility have been changed, said administrator Darryl Wahler.

For example, the person who makes out the checks does not now have access to the machine which imprints signatures on the checks.

The changes are not foolproof, but will help eliminate some theft. "If you're going to ask if it could never happen again, I can't say no," Wahler said, "but it would take collusion. There'd have to be more than one person involved."

What is most upsetting to Leigh is that the former money man knew the facility's financial situation.
